

Private & Confidential

19 June 2025

Cyber incident update 19 June 2025

---

Following our update earlier this week on our investigation into the recent cyber incident, we wanted to make you aware of a recent development.

This morning, the Board detected that the third party who previously disclosed some of our data has published a link on the dark web to some files, claiming they relate to the Board.

We have reviewed these files as a priority and can confirm they do not relate to the Board or contain information belonging to the Board.

We wanted to make you aware of this development and the steps the Board has taken to ensure that the files do not contain information that may affect our practitioners or broader stakeholders.

We continue to closely monitor the dark web for any further activity and our investigation to determine potential data access is ongoing.

To ensure we are taking all available steps in response to this, we have obtained an injunction to prevent any access, dissemination or sharing of data impacted by this incident.

Operational update

We are continuing work to restore our online services. We thank you all for your support and understanding while we worked through this period.

Further questions

There are FAQs available on our website to help address common questions. Any further questions or concerns about the incident should be directed to incident@lpbwa.com or the helpline on 08 7070 2413.

We thank you again for your support at this time.

Yours sincerely,
Legal Practice Board
